As lowly, humble freshmen, we meekly entered the portals of Central High School. The first week was spent stumbling through the maze of strange hallways, but with the patience and the sincere understanding of the faculty, we were soon organized into an orderly freshman class.

senior history

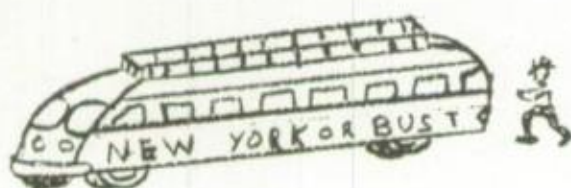

We entered our sophomore year with high spirits and a "know-it-all" attitude but this was stifled by sophomore algebra and Latin, and we immediately started to work. Election time rolled around, and with much "apple-polishing" and political campaigning, the following officers were elected; Alvin Jenkins, president; Winston Hedgepeth, vice president; Ann Story, secretary; and Bobby Collier, treasurer. Mr. Jerome Cruze and Mr. Frank Nelson were our sponsors

As the year got under way, we elected four students to represent our class: Alvin Jenkins, president; James West, vice president; Ann Story, secretary; and Bobby Collier, treasurer. Our sponsors were Miss Kate Gibson and Mr. H.E. McGinnis. At the end of the first term, fifty-two of us were taken into the Junior Honor Society.

The band received an A-1 rating at the State Festival and was chosen to represent Tennessee at the International Lions Club Convention in New York City where they rated fourth in the nation.

We were proud to have Carolyn Brown to help support our team in leading the cheers. "Belles on Their Toes", the sequence to last year's play, "Cheaper by the Dozen", was presented by the dramatics department; Fred Forbes, Larry Trivette, Keith Mynatt, and John Black represented our class by taking leading parts.

"Cheaper By the Dozen" was a big dramatics attraction of the year. Keith Mynatt and John Black were members of our class taking parts in the play. With Earl Crosland representing us on the varsity football team, and Audrey Zink as the only freshman girl on the girls' basketball team, we were well represented in the athletics department.

The band won an A-1 rating at the East Tennessee Festival in Jefferson City, while the chorus, under the direction of Mr. Charles P. Sanders, took part in the E.T.E.A. pageant and won an A-1 rating in the East Tennessee Festival in Knoxville. Come trophy day, several of the students were recognized for their outstanding scholarships. Pat Lakin received the English Cup again this year, and Pim Stephenson received both the Latin and Algebra Cups.

Before we realized it, the close of our first year at Central was upon us, and the awards were given out. One award was presented to a member of our class: Pat Lakin took the English Cup for making the highest freshman English average. All of our class pitched in to help establish a good record in this, our freshman year.

The bell rang and the third round began! We were now fulfilled juniors and had two classes to look down on. We elected the following officers to lead us our junior year: Jerry Milstead, president; Alvin Jenkins, vice president; Ann Story, secretary; Charlie Montgomery, treasurer. Mrs. Mary Harrison and Mrs. Grace Irwin were our sponsors.

For the second year, the band had an assistant drum major. This year he was Nelson Farmer. Betty Beeler was the majorette from the junior class. In the spring the band went to Daytona Beach, Florida, for four days to provide music in the bandstand on the Board Walk. The choir made an excellent showing at their Winter Concert, Minstrel Show, and also at the festival. This year Carolyn McClain joined Carolyn Brown to represent the junior class as cheerleaders.

Early in March, twenty-four juniors proved themselves eligible for the Senior Honor Society. The speech arts department presented an excellent play "A Man Called Peter", with Jerry Milstead and Evelyn Lewis giving the leading roles. Also in March, Jane Alexander and Sarah Shelley were chosen to represent Central at Girls' State, while Jerry Milstead and Charlie Hughes were to attend Boys' State. In April, Richard Trythall attended All Nation Band in St. Louis. Pim Stephenson made us proud to have him as our editor of the regular CENTRALITE.

For the first time, Central was chosen to send students to Europe through the foreign exchange program. After many letters, talks, and interviews, Bobby Collier and Fred Forbes both went to Germany to live with typical German families for the summer. On Honors Day, Beverly Lock won the schoolwide competition for the English Cup, while Jerry Milstead received the Dramatics Cup. Just one more year to go...

When summer gave way to autumn, we again climbed the hill to Central--Seniors, at last. The dreams and hopes of three years had finally become a reality. We had quite different reactions from that which we had expected--we entered our last year with a deep reverence and love for our school. As we determined to make our senior year our best, this was our most important election. We chose our leaders to be Jonny Wolfenbarger as president, Charlie Montgomery as vice president, Jane Alexander as secretary, and Bobby Collier as treasurer. Miss Nannie Lee Hicks and Colonel Nathan Eubank guided us through our last year at Central.

Chosen as our football leaders were Jack Roberts, captain and Earl Crosland, co-captain. Three boys of our class made All County; they were Charlie Severence, Jack Roberts, and Jim Lockwood. Our basketball team has as their captain Don Medley and as alternate captain Ronnie Pollard. The team showed excellent sportsmanship and were stiff competition for our opponents. The Bobkittens had a successful season with Audrey Zink and Margie Rogers as captain and co-captain, respectively. Most of all, the spirit of the teams and spectators fall back on the cheerleaders. Two of them were from our class--Carolyn Brown and Carolyn McClain.

Our class was honored to have an exchange student, Gill Smith from New Zealand. During the year she made many American friends. Everyone who knew Gill will always remember her vivacious personality and bubbling spirit. A number of small plays were given throughout the year; the biggest of these was CINDERELLA in which Peggy Flowers played the leading role. One of the hardest working Centralites was Charlie Hughes--the editor of our annual.

As usual, the band had a successful year. They took a concert tour of East Tennessee, Virginia, and Kentucky in April. Four members were chosen to represent Central in the All State Band Clinic. Leading this great band was drum major Nelson Farmer. Three of the pretty majorettes were from the senior class: they were Sandra Lovell, Margie Rogers, and Betty Beeler. Mr. Sanders' main project was a Hi-Fi set--the first one in the country! After an excellent concert and unusual minstrel show, the choir was well on its way to be the best in the history of Central.

The traditional Baccalaureate Sermon took place at Central Baptist Church on Sunday, May 26, 1957. We received our diplomas at the graduation ceremonies at the University of Tennessee on Friday night, May 31, 1957. The end of this year drew the curtain upon the high school careers of our friends and classmates, and we are indeed thankful for the opportunities which have been offered to us here at Central. We wish to thank our wonderful faculty for their work in making our high school days so worthwhile. We sincerely hope that as our experiences will continue to be as profit-and-enjoyable through the rest of our lives as the last four years have been.

FOURTH ROW: Paul Slagle, Glenn Greene, Charles Montgomery, Nick Carter, Creed White, Gene Hill, Bill Felknor, Jon Wolfenbarger, Bill Cole, Jim Wells, Coach Frank Boring.

Central-32--Bearden-7: After a first quarter exchange of touchdowns, the Bobcats offense began to move. Touchdowns were scored by Sizemore, Severance, Bridges and two by Crosland. The entire Bobcat team stood out in stopping a strong Bearden team.

Central-0--Erwin-19: Central lost their only game of the season to the Erwin Blue Devils 19-0. Central's offense couldn't get going at the right as Bobcat drives were stopped at the 25, 2, and 15 yard lines while Erwin used a stolen ball and a fumble recovery to a great advantage.

Central-6--East-6: Central opened their 1956 season with a disappointing 6-6 deadlock at the hands of a stubborn East team. Central's offense got rolling only once as they were held by a stout East line.

Central-12--Everett-7: Two blocked kicks, one by Charlie Severance, the other by Bill Cole set up the necessary touchdowns needed to beat a tough Everett team.

Central-20--Bradley-18: Against Bradley, Central played their best ball game of their season. With four regulars sidelined with injuries, Jonny Wolfenbarger stepped in and led Central over very highly regarded Bradley.

CHS-22--West-0: Ralph McCarter recovered a West High fumble and Wolfenbargar carried 18 yards for a TD and the Cats were off and running again. Crosland and Bridges scored two more touchdowns to make the score 20-0. Neely then trapped the West ball carrier in the end zone for the final two points.

in action

Central-12--Fulton-7: With Charlie Severance and a stout defense leading the way, Central upset Fulton. Severance made a beautiful catch of a pass and an end around play for both touchdowns while the defense held Fulton except at one time late in the game.

Central-42--Rule-12: A bevy of Central backs opened up on Rule to the tune of 6 touchdowns in the first and one each in the third and fourth.

Central-38--Morristown-0: On Dan Boring Night the Bobcats opened up again and won a smashing victory for the coach on his night. Our fine backs had no trouble outrunning the slow Morristown defense. Our defense held together again no points to Morristown.

Central-13--Young-13: The battle for the championship started and Crosland opened the scoring 68 yard touchdown run. Late in the second quarter Young scored after a pass interception. Severance recovered a fumble and Central added another score, but Young drove downfield and tied it up. Jonny Wolfenbargar was injured late in the game ending his high school career.

Our Team: Ted McCloud, manager, Bobby Barnes, John Tipton, Sam Wadsworth, John Carpenter, Don Medley, Ronnie Pollard. Alvin Jenkins, Charlie Severance, Charlie Montgomery, and Danny Drinnen.

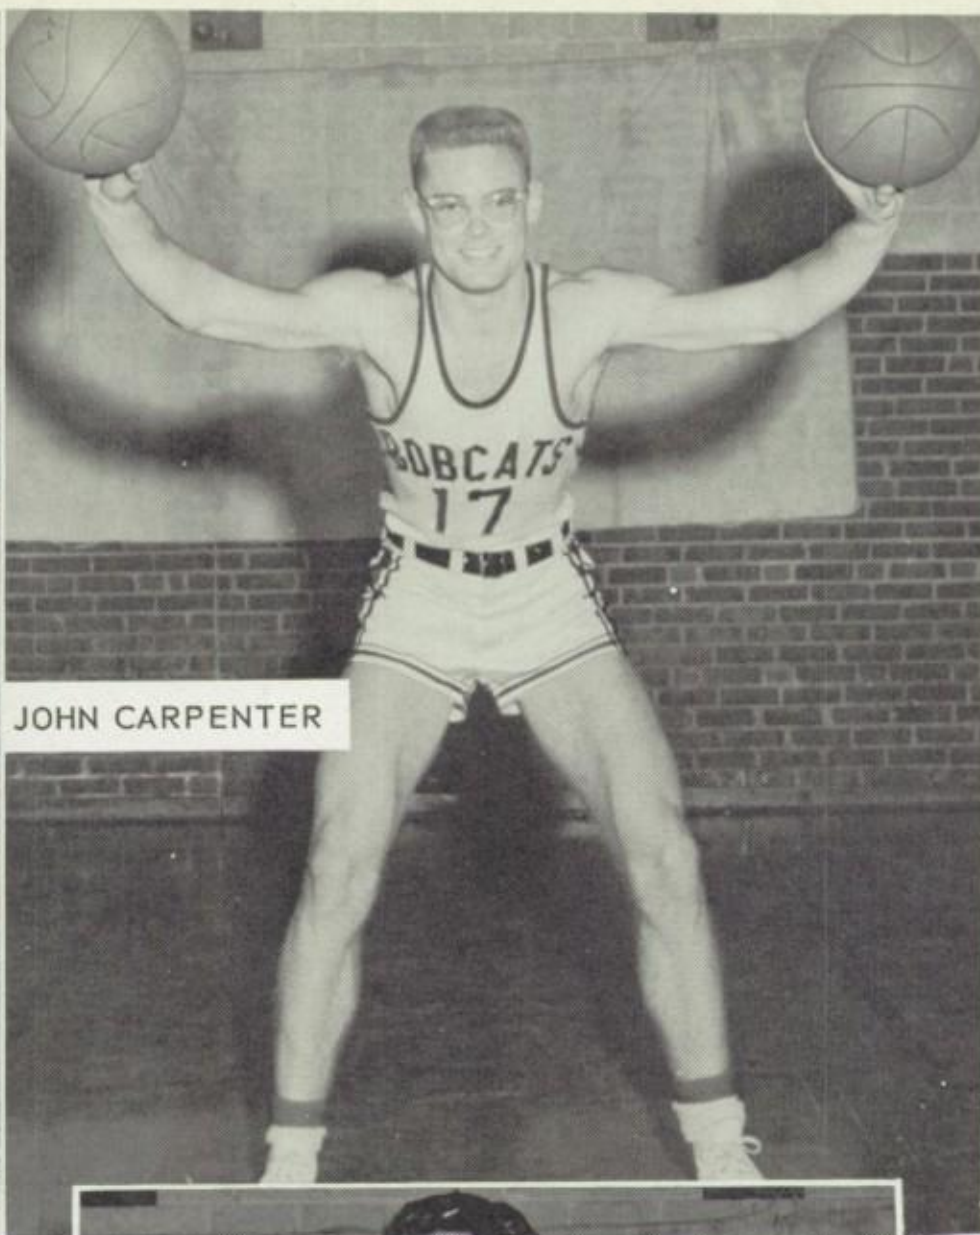

When the 1956-57 basketball season rolled around, Coach O.C. Lloyd found that he was without the services of four first-string lettermen, and the rest of the squad had little experience for the most part. But the spirit and determination of the boys turned the team into a well-rounded organization that gave us many victories. The Bobcats participated in the South Invitation Tournament during Christmas vacations and the District Tournament at the end of the season.

Danny Drinnen goes for a jump shot against West.

FIRST ROW: Wayne Kramer, Harold Deatherage, Bill Armstrong, Walter Lowe, Eugene Treadway, George Pearson. SECOND ROW: Jim Hall, Mike Pelton, Wayne Caldwell, Pete King, Joe Parish, Paris Ruth.

The B team this year had another very successful season. Although Coach Winiger never did have an actual starting five, the boys played well together, developed a good spirit, and won quite a few games. The come-early, stay-late customers were given many thrills by the aggressive B team that showed teamwork and the will to win. The B team is a stepping stone to the varsity, and with this successful team, we can look forward to having a good varsity team next year.

Practice makes perfect so the boys work hard.

This has been a rebuilding year for girl's basketball at Central High. Although the three seniors have been the main players, most of the girls are freshmen and sophomores. The freshmen and sophomores have shown a good attitude and the willingness to play. With these inexperienced players gaining their experience this year, the girl's team ought to have a good team for the next two or three years.

The swimming team has been very active this year. The boys have worked out at the YMCA. During the season the boys used the Boys' Club pool on Tuesday and Thursday nights. The girls worked out at the YWCA every Thursday afternoon. Each month the girls and boys had a joint meeting.

The team was in full swing entering swimming meets November 30 and March 8. Members got points toward their letters on their attendance at meetings and practices, participation in meets, and their development of strokes. Mrs. Irwin has done an excellent job with her large group this year.

ACTIVITIES

There was never a dull moment for the band during the year 1956-1957. They played at all the home games, and made short trips to Cleveland and Erwin to play for games away from home. They held a concert January 31 at Central. On February 1-3 ten students went to the East Tennessee Band Clinic in Maryville. They climaxed their busy year with a May concert. The two projects for this year were the purchase of a contrabass clarinet and aiding the Chorus members in the cost of their new high-fidelity system. Mr. O'Dell Willis is director.

Below the band is seen performing some difficult maneuvers in precision marching at one of the night football games. The band added much spirit and gave complementary attractions to many school affairs during the year.

THE THREE CAROLINES

The objective of the chorus this year has been to create a keener and more varied appreciation of the art of music through the mediums of performing and listening to new and different kinds of music. This objective has been easier to attain through the use of our High-Fidelity System. Central is very proud to be the first high school to have obtained a High-Fidelity System in the country! Projects for the spring included the festival, ETEA, and the Annual Southern Revue. Some of us represented Central at All State Chorus in Nashville.

future homemakers of america

The Future Homemakers of America are divided into three chapters with chapters I and II working together. Projects of Chapters I and II included a Christmas party for a little girl they "adopted" from John Tarleton Institute. Chapter III gave Christmas baskets, sold school pennants, and entertained at a Christmas party. All three chapters attended the state convention held in Nashville in the late spring.
